Stoney Point Road Bridge Replacement Project Over Markel Run, Reading Township, Adams County, PA SR 7218-BRG — MPMS No. 18154

Reading Township, in coordination with the Pennsylvania Department of Transportation, is in the preliminary design and engineering phase for the proposed replacement of the Stoney Point Road Bridge over Markel Run near the intersection with Hoovers School Road. You are invited to review the plans and provide feedback during a 30-day comment period. Engineering plans, detour route maps, and comment forms are available on the Township website. Any questions should be directed to Brian Pinamonti, P.E. (contact information below).

The existing bridge is a single-span steel I-beam bridge and will be replaced with a wider precast concrete arch bridge on the same alignment. The project also includes associated roadway work on the bridge approaches. A combination of federal, state, and local funding will be used for this project.

Construction is anticipated to begin in late 2025 or early 2026 and will require a roadway closure. The 6.5-mile detour utilizes Germany Road, Lake Meade Road, Carlisle Pike (SR 94), and East Berlin Road (SR 234). The detour is shown below and also on the Township website.
